Iytdryv Go-to-Market (GTM) Scorecard

Rate each item from 1 (Not at all true) to 5 (Absolutely true)

<ul> <li>1. Strategic Clarity</li> <li>We have a clearly defined ICP and buyer journey</li> <li>Our positioning and messaging are consistent across channels</li> <li>We know what outcomes our GTM system is supposed to deliver</li> </ul>
<ul><li>2. Demand Generation</li><li>We have a repeatable process to generate and capture</li></ul> demand
<ul> <li>We know what channels are actually working—and why</li> <li>We're not reliant on founder-led sales or one-time campaigns</li> </ul>
3. Marketing–to–Sales Handoff
<ul> <li>We have clear SLAs and definitions (like MQL/SAL/SQL)</li> <li>Marketing and Sales collaborate, not compete</li> <li>No leads fall through the cracks—we know what happens next</li> </ul>
4. Sales Process & Enablement
<ul> <li>Our sales process aligns with how our customers actually buy</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>Reps are equipped with the right assets and tools</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>We can forecast revenue with reasonable accuracy</li> </ul>	()

★lytdryv Go-to-Market (GTM) Scorecard

<ul> <li>5. Customer Success &amp; Expansion</li> <li>We track activation, onboarding, and retention with clear metrics</li> </ul>
<ul><li>CS has what it needs to drive value and expansion</li><li>CS works with marketing and sales to improve revenue</li></ul>
<ul><li>and reduce churn</li><li>We understand the levers behind NRR</li></ul>
6. Leadership & Visibility
<ul> <li>Someone owns the GTM system at a strategic level</li> <li>We have dashboards showing pipeline health, conversion, and revenue</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>We review GTM performance regularly and take action</li> </ul>
Scoring Guide
Total
<ul> <li>40–45: You've got a strong system—keep optimizing.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>30–39: Some strong foundations, but weak links will hurt growth.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>20–29: You're in the danger zone—patchwork efforts aren't scaling.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>&lt;20: You're likely stuck in reactive mode. Time to install</li> </ul>

We help Founders, CEOs, and GTM teams turn GTM Strategy into a Revenue System that Works—without hiring full-time.

structure and leadership.

(Iytdryv ™

Would it help to get a second set of eyes on your GTM? When it makes sense, feel free to chedule a no-commitment 30-min consult and get practical insight on how to fix the gaps.

Get Your Free 30-min Advisory Session